

By Kevin Siembieda

We are all back at the office and working hard on a wide variety of projects.

UPDATE: Kevin Siembieda on the mend

I am amazed by the human body as I seem to be healing up lickety split. Every day it seems like I can raise my arm a little higher, a little farther. The pain a little less intense. It is truly amazing to me. I'm still stiff and tight and need physical therapy, but my doctor was very pleased with the mobility I'm already exhibiting. And all my doctors are happy with the healing of my incision as I have heard, "Oh, that's healing up beautifully," on several occasions now.

For those of you who have not heard, I was a pedestrian on the sidewalk, when I got hit by a Jeep/SUV style vehicle. The driver was distracted by his children in the back seat and didn't see me when he backed out of his driveway. Struck me in my left hip and knocked me on my right shoulder, and SNAP, KAPOW, I'm broken. I knew immediately that my right arm was broken clear through, because my arm would not respond, and when I looked down it was waving in the wind like a puppet's arm on a string. Gross. Frightening. And it hurt like a son of a ... well you get the picture.

I strongly considered having Wayne post the before and after X-rays of my broken humerus bone (the upper arm between the elbow and shoulder), but that one inch space between the broken pieces of my bone and the angle the two pieces are pointing is very disturbing to some people. The same is true of the metal plate and screws. I sure don't want to gross anyone out. Kathy Simmons, my girlfriend, felt nauseous when she saw it the first time up on the screen at the hospital. It looks like something you would see in a cartoon. I have had fun showing the before and after X-rays around to friends. Even took 'em to Anime North. Hey, trying to laugh and make the best of a bad situation that could have been much, much worse. Happy to be alive, not crippled and only suffering from a broken bone. Thank you, Guardian Angel. (Btw, it is one metal plate and eight screws. I think I had said two plates and 16 screws in a prior Update. I must have been more out of it than I thought when the doctor first spoke to me about it after surgery.)

The week has been a busy one. Still running back and forth to doctors for follow up visits, more tests, and soon, physical therapy. I cannot drive a car for another couple of weeks or work more than 8 hours a day – Doctor's orders! And I cannot pick up or push anything weighing more than five pounds (2.25 kg); it was two pounds (0.9 kg) prior to that. That's a lot trickier than it sounds. A gallon of milk weighs 8.6 pounds. Heck, Rifts® Ultimate Edition weighs almost three pounds!

And

what's the weight/psi to push open a car door? Still hurting and my body is ready to go home after 8 hours of work, but I'm feeling better every day.

My thanks to those of you continuing to send get-well cards and kind words. They are very welcomed and often make me laugh. I'm itching to dive back into writing the next several books, and intend to do just that starting Monday! Spent much of this week trying to get caught up with mail, emails, bills and correspondences. Between being literally knocked off my feet and then going to Anime North over the Memorial Day Weekend, I was quite behind. Getting pretty caught up, at least with the most important matters.

UPDATE: Coalition States: Heroes of Humanity™ Sourcebook – Ships June 15

The printer has confirmed that Rifts® CS Heroes of Humanity™ will ship on June 15, 2016. In the meanwhile, take a look at the rather sizeable preview available for FREE at DriveThruRPG.com.

Everyone who saw the photocopy of Rifts® CS Heroes of Humanity™ at Anime North went wild over it. I'm tempted to say they particularly loved the way to upgrade existing characters with Advanced Training, except I think most people loved pretty much everything in the book: the Combat Courier, CS Death Knight, Skelebot Specialist, Operation Hellbender and the Coalition's unprecedented use of Juicers and Combat Cyborgs, the data about the CS, the information on CS strategies and tactics against the Minions of Hell and vice versa, the involvement of Archie, the Vanguard, the Minions of Splugorth, Lemurians and ... well, pretty much everything.

Heroes of Humanity™

really does change the landscape.

CS Heroes of Humanity™ refreshes the Rifts Earth setting and provokes ideas for epic adventure the likes of which you probably have never played. When was the last time Coalition forces worked with D-Bees and mages? Probably never.

And certainly not on the scale found in

Heroes of Humanity™

Here is a situation where Coalition soldiers (new and old O.C.C.s) can join forces with D-Bees, mages, mercs, Ley Line Walkers, Lazlo mages, Federation mages and Automatons, the Vanguard, Free Quebec Glitter Boys, Cyber-Knights, Juicers, psychics, True Atlanteans, and even the Minions of Splugorth, Lemurians, and Archie Three robots! Talk about epic. But don't get too cozy with the CS, there is still plenty of tension, hard feelings and hostility between the Coalition and their non-Coalition brothers in arms. And more trouble is brewing.

HoH ships June 15, 2016.

Have you ordered your copy?

UPDATE: The Rifter® #74

Wayne is making his final selections for The Rifter® #74 and already looking toward material for

The Rifter® #75

as well.

UPDATE: CS Heroes of Humanity™ Arsenal Sourcebook

I spent most of this week catching up on business matters and clearing my plate to work on CS Heroes of Humanity™ Arsenal on Monday. This sourcebook presents new Coalition weapons, power armor, robots, combat vehicles, upgrades and other goodies. Time to pre-order! See the description elsewhere.

UPDATE: Rifts® The Disavowed™

Joseph Prosek II is the supreme puppet master working from the shadows. The ambitious heir to throne of the Coalition States has created a web of secrets and agents across the globe (and beyond!) that nobody knows about. Not even the Emperor. The Disavowed are just one tool in his growing network of espionage and power. I'll be making notes for

The Disavowed

as I work on

CS Heroes of Humanity™ Arsenal, as the ideas come. These books are stand-alone products related by theme, time-line and interlocking events to

Heroes of Humanity™,

but present their own avenues of adventure. Epic fun is coming this Spring and Summer.

UPDATE: Rifts® Secrets of the Atlanteans™

In final development. John Zeleznik is working on the cover. Assigning interior art in the weeks ahead.

UPDATE: Rifts® Sovietski™

In final development. The cover has been assigned to John Zeleznik. Interior artwork to be assigned.

UPDATE: Savage Rifts® for Savage Worlds®

We continue to approve finished art and designs. All good looking stuff. The Savage Rifts® RPG line is promising to look fabulous.

UPDATE: Robotech® RPG Tactics™

We are building up for much, much more for Robotech® RPG Tactics™. Starting with materials to be made available on DriveThruRPG.

Palladium Collectibles Available in Kevin's Online Toy & Collectibles Store

A wide range of art and collectibles have been selling over the last few weeks. Nice. I hope you enjoy your items, be they out of print books, signed titles, rare hardcovers, original artwork, toys or other goodies.

Original art are one-of-a-kind items, so when they are gone (like the TMNT sketches and Rifts® illustrations), they are gone. Many other offerings are signed, limited editions or are items that have been sold out for some time.

I'll continue to pull things out of my personal collection and Palladium archives. A bunch of toys have been added to my online store with more to come.

More collectibles, artwork and toys are added almost every week. Palladium collectibles, hardcovers, out-of-print titles, original artwork, and toys and items from my personal collection are on my ebay store. We add items on a regular basis and offer sales, so check it out from time to time. Includes one-of-a-kind original artwork, prints, Rifts® and Robotech® artwork by Kevin Long, me and others

. There is also a range of limited editions, rare book titles and limited edition hardcovers, toys and more available with frequent new items added. Items include original art, out-of-print titles, redlined proofreader photocopies signed by me and the staff, signed manuscripts with editors' corrections, some original art, hardcover books (including Rifts® Lemuria, Northern Gun™ One, Northern Gun™ Two,

Megaverse® in Flames™, Beyond the Supernatural™ Gold, Rifts® Machinations of Doom™ Gold
and

Rifts® Ultimate Gold

), hundreds of toys and action figures, all from my personal archives and

or two for new items added.

Anime North Report

As always, Anime North was a blast. Even in blistering heat with temps in the high 80s and low 90s. Sales were so-so (they're always weak for us at anime conventions), but it was great to see old friends like Todd Spencley, Rob Siemens and Kent Burles, and hang with Palladium creators like Apollo Okamura, Braden Campbell, Brett Caron, Greg Diaczyk and his family (Hi, Caleb, Joshua, and Noah!), among others. Special thanks to Brett who ran Rifts ® games and helped us tear down the booth and pack up the van. With me able to only lift 2-5 pounds, we were a man short. Also a big thank you to Robert Shewring for running Robotech® RPG Tactics demos.

My Lord DeSilca game went great on Friday. So did all three panel talks over the weekend. In fact, the Saturday Creating Mecha and Monsters panel was filled well beyond capacity. It was a small room with 50 people crammed into it, and 40 other people had to be turned away. This was Chuck Walton's baby. I contributed to the talk but Chuck ran wild with it, including doing sketch examples. Nice. Great crowd. Sorry that so many people had to be turned away.

By Saturday afternoon, I realized I had pushed myself too hard and I had to cancel my other two games and retire to the hotel around 4:00 PM. I hope I didn't disappoint anyone, but I needed to rest.

I did make it to the Saturday Night Guest Dinner which was yummy and fun, even if Chuck Walton and I were somehow forgotten and left behind with our convention liaison for TWO hours! Chuck had a conversation with a pair of Transformers (really) and gushed as he got photos and autographs from four of the key voice actors behind Sailor Moon, including Linda Ballantyne

– Sailor Moon herself! I enjoyed seeing Charles turn all fan-boy. It was great fun seeing that side to Chuck.

We managed to sneak in seeing Capt ain America: Civil War

, in 3D, before the convention opened on Friday and loved it. This is truly a super-fun movie. Do yourself a favor and go see it. Wow. Black Panther, Spider-Man, Ant-Man ... all of it was great. I want to see it again.

The worst part of the whole trip was Customs coming and going. Canadian Customs tagged us for inspection going into Canada, and US Customs tagged us coming back. The latter sucked, because we hit the border just before 11:00 PM and did not get released until three hours later – 2:00 AM. And they did NOT open a single box. I think they may have inspected my suitcase, but that was about it. What a painful waste of time. Wayne dropped me off at home at 2:30 AM, but he and Chuck still had another half an hour to get home. Sorry guys. Thank goodness we all had Memorial Day to sleep in and partially recover. We were all still dragging on Tuesday.

Strategicon: GAMEX

From all reports, Strategicon, in L.A., was a fun weekend. We hope Palladium fans enjoyed the number of Robotech® events that took place.

GrandCon – Grand Rapids, Michigan – September 16, 17 & 18, 2016

Looking for a nice medium-sized convention of around 2,000 gamers? Then consider GrandCon in Grand Rapids, Michigan. It's only about 2 hours and 15 minutes from Westland, and even closer for folks living in Livonia, Plymouth, Novi, and cities farther west. Ideal for any Michiganders and gamers living in Illinois, Indiana and maybe even Wisconsin

and eastern Iowa

I (Kevin Siembieda) am a guest along with Sean Patrick Fannon, co-author of Savage Rifts

® for the Savage Worlds game system
, and many other guests. Sean and I will be doing panels about
Savage Rifts®
and role-playing game design, world building and running gaming events (I'll probably run
Lord DeSilca/Fantasy and/or Beyond the Supernatural
) , and Palladium Books will have a few tables in the dealers' room manned by Wayne Smith
and
Charles Walton II

(with artwork for sale). All of us will be present to chat with gamers and sign books. I am thrilled to have a rapidly growing game convention like GrandCon in western Michigan, and they have even bigger plans for 2017. Michiganders, help support this convention. We need and deserve a large gaming convention in our state.

Randi Cartier, your departure was too soon and unexpected, you will be missed

As I mentioned in my the May 25th Weekly Update, my dear friend, Randi Cartier

, passed away last week. The news was a shock to everyone, especially to her loving husband, Roger

. I was so stunned and grief stricken the day we got the news, I could not find the words to talk about Randi. But she deserves to be spoken of.

Randi was a character, as are most gamers. She tended to be a power gamer. Her characters always looking for the big payoff, magic weapon (or armor, or device, etc.), and that big moment of heroics. She was fun and funny. Kind and loveable.

Randi and Roger played in my regular Saturday night fantasy games for more than a decade, and only stopped because I became too busy to run a weekly game. Randi and Roger play-tested the original

Robotech® RPG

and

Beyond the Supernatural

TM back in the mid-1980s,

play-tested

Rifts

® in the 1990s and contributed maps, text and ideas to the Palladium Fantasy RPG®.

Fantasy was always her favorite to play; mine too. Randi and Roger helped me through my divorce and helped me make improvements to the house. Randi would laugh and condemn my made up “legends of Canada” and hated the “Beaver Stomp” I incorporated into my

Robotech

® campaign in the 1980s. (Don't ask what that involved, but Kevin Long and I thought it was hilarious. Randi protested to the contrary.) She was very creative, full of ideas and talented. She had a knack for arts and crafts, cooking, and was a truly skilled, semi-professional miniature painter. I would look forward to Christmas which often included a new painted dragon or other figure as a gift from her.

Randi is also the person who prodded fellow Canadian Carmen Bellaire to submit some of his writing and ideas to Palladium Books. Carmen and I became fast friends and he has been a major contributor to Palladium Books. Carmen has grown into a freakin' awesome game designer and one hell of a writer, but none of that might have happened if not for Randi. Amazing how our lives touch so many others.

Randi was fun and a good gamer who I enjoyed very much in my games, even at her most outrageous. But more than that, Randi was an awesome human being. Kind and caring, easy to talk to, considerate and someone I could confide in. I think everyone who knew Randi, loved her. I was actually planning a big Christmas surprise for Randi later this year and had intended to visit them at their home in Canada in a few weeks, as I had something I wanted to give her, and we had not seen each other in a while.

I will deeply miss Randi's exuberance and big, sweet, friendly and generous personality. I am glad she was part of my life and my gaming experience. My heartfelt condolences to Roger, her family and friends. I will miss you, Randi, but I will never forget you.

My apologies if this Update ended on a bit of a somber note, but Randi Cartier deserves to be recognized for the wonderful person she was. Her sudden passing and my being hit by a car (and could have been crippled or killed) are two painful reminders that any of us can go at any moment. Cherish the people and games that you love while you have them in your lives. Enjoy them to the fullest. Please tell the people you love how much they matter, and enjoy their laughter, friendship and camaraderie while you can. My friends, have a vibrant and wonderful weekend. Game on!
